COMPANY BIO

Blind Penguin, established in 2019, is a software development company committed to accessibility, innovation, and open-source excellence. Founded by José Ibáñez, a blind programmer with a deep understanding of inclusive technology, Blind Penguin helps organizations across Puerto Rico and the United States design, build, and maintain digital systems that are efficient, scalable, and accessible to all users. The company specializes in delivering tailored software solutions that enhance operational efficiency, improve digital presence, and provide measurable business value while remaining cost-effective.

With a focus on accessibility-first development, Blind Penguin integrates inclusivity into the software design process from the very beginning, ensuring that applications, websites, and mobile platforms meet high usability and compliance standards. The team also leverages open-source frameworks to deliver innovative solutions that minimize licensing costs while maximizing flexibility, reliability, and performance. From custom web applications and mobile platforms to Linux server management, Docker deployment, and PostgreSQL optimization, Blind Penguin combines technical expertise with real-world experience to provide impactful, user-centered solutions.
